HEALTHY FOR LIFE: AOX ANTIOXIDANT ALKALINE WATER

Testimonial by a user, Peter Ho

In Singapore, even though our tap water is well within the World Health Organisation safe drinking water guidelines, many of us are brought up to boil our water, or to use a water filter at home. While boiling water is effective in destroying bacteria, more health conscious people prefer drinking antioxidant alkaline water for its health benefits.

Mr Jeffrey Tan (MD, JC Living Stream) who was trained in Darkfield Microscopy by a German Medical Doctor, a renowned German doctor, said, "Alkaline water can neutralise acidic wastes in your bloodstream, boost your energy level and metabolism, and help your body absorb nutrients more effectively." He added, "Studies have shown that it could also help you strengthen your immune system, fight free radicals, and thus, slow the aging process. By drinking AOX antioxidant alkaline water, you get natural minerals such as Calcium, Magnesium, Potassium, Sodium and Silica (HSA tested), which you do not typically get from the regular alkaline ionizer water dispensers, or tap water.

To test the validity of these claims of AOX antioxidant alkaline water, I took up their challenge and went through a Live Blood Analysis offered by Mr Tan. My first analysis showed the presence of free radical damaged cells and blood cells were relatively clustered. I drank a large glass of AOX antioxidant alkaline water, and waited 20 minutes to do a second analysis. This time, we scanned through my entire sample; there was no sign of free radicals at all! Indeed, AOX antioxidant properties work like Vitamin C to restore the damaged blood cells.

AOX antioxidant alkaline water is not magic water or medication. It is simply rich in antioxidants to fight free radicals and the alkaline properties act as a buffer to the acidic conditions of the body. We know that free radicals are the root cause of many degenerative diseases. Therefore, it makes sense to drink AOX on a daily basis to prevent the onset of such illnesses in our bodies.

AOX is used by Singapore National Heart Centre, Prime Minister's Office, Bank of America, many clinics and organisations.

*The product is approved by both FDA and KFDA.
The water produced by AOX is also tested by HSA and SGS Lab Test in Singapore.*
