AOX Antioxidant Alkaline Water

DRINK TO GOOD HEALTH

Naturally ionised with hydrogen, oxygen and negative-ions, AOX water is a power antioxidant that helps combat free-radicals for a healthier, more youthful mind and body.

THE IDEA THAT DRINKING something as basic as water can help improve one's constitution might be hard to believe, but ask AOX's many satisfied customers and they'll passionately tell you otherwise. Many, including local artiste Sherry Tan, have benefitted greatly from drinking AOX antioxidant alkaline water and they'll let their improved health speak for itself.

The AOX System

"Unlike other systems which require electricity and produces waste water" AOX ambassador Sherry Tan shares that "the AOX system does not need electricity and does not produce 'waste' water as it purifies regular tap water. The convenient easy to use system features bio-minerals like carbon filters, an alkaline filter and oxygenator that does the purification and filtration naturally.

The Science In The Water

Essentially, the AOX device is a water purifier that ionises regular tap water with hydrogen, oxygen and negative ions. The water is also alkalised, mineralised and reduced into smaller clusters, which aids hydration as your body is able to absorb the water and its nutrients and minerals more easily. The alkaline properties also help restore balance in your body at a cellular level.

The Crucial Benefits

Sherry proudly shares that the benefits experienced by both herself and her family have been noticeable, just months of drinking AOX water. She herself experienced a noticeable improvement in her energy levels while the pH balancing properties of the alkaline water has also been extended into her beauty regimen, where the water's pH balancing properties helps soothes and heal pimples quicker. Most crucially, her children's skin woes have also eased dramatically, with their eczema outbreaks happening less frequently thanks to AOX water's cleansing and healing properties.

For a closer look at AOX's immunity boosting benefits, just look at the blood test sample in the graphic; image A shows Sherry's clustered blood cells before drinking AOX water while image B shows Sherry's healthy blood cells after a period of drinking AOX water.
